

Troncos

Product description

The character and warmth that wood provides are important when it comes to reinforcing the aesthetics of a setting, since it gives any space a personality. The truth is that the new forms of wood finishes no longer resort exclusively to rustic settings, but can be very modern and even use all kinds of colours. This is what happens with Panespol Troncos, where by placing a rough and natural element such as wooden logs into a modern space, you can achieve an elegant and innovative effect.
